Here is the detailed comprehensive information regarding the Raviswarapuram (Raveeswarapuram) Siva Temple in Kodungallur, Kerala,

Location

- Address: Raveeswarapuram Siva Temple, Near Municipal Office, Uzhuvathu Kadavu, National Highway 17 (Star Nagar), Kodungallur, Thrissur District, Kerala, Pincode – 680664.
- Geographical Position: It is situated in the heart of Kodungallur town, very close to the famous Sree Kurumba (Kodungallur Bhagavathi) Temple.

How to Get There

- By Air: The nearest international airport is Cochin International Airport (COK) at Nedumbassery, located about 30 km away from Kodungallur. Taxis and buses are readily available from the airport.
- By Train: There is no direct railway station inside Kodungallur town. The nearest major railway stations are Irinjalakuda (IJK) (approx. 14 km away) and Aluva (AWY) or Thrissur (TCR) (approx. 35 km away).
- By Road: Kodungallur is exceptionally well-connected by private and KSRTC public buses from major cities across Kerala like Kochi, Thrissur, and Guruvayur. The temple itself sits right off the National Highway 17 passing through Kunnumpuram.

Speciality of this Temple

- 108 Shiva Temples: The temple holds immense spiritual significance as it is recognized as one of the legendary 108 Shiva Kshetrangal (Temples) of Kerala, traditionally believed to safeguard the land.
- Raviswara Aspect: The unique name "Raviswarapuram" stems from the presiding deity's form as Raviswara (where "Ravi" signifies the Sun God), implying a historic connection to solar worship or a radiant aspect of Lord Shiva.
- Mysterious Linga: Inside the temple complex, there is a traditional temple pond (Ambala Kulam) which houses an ancient, abandoned supplementary Shiva Linga. The exact origin and history of this underwater or edge-bound icon remain unknown.
- Flora: The temple complex features a distinct, notably large, ancient Naga tree (Nagalingam tree), adding a serene, classic ecological aura to the sacred site.

History and Legends

- Sage Parashurama: According to regional folklore and the Keralolpatti, the consecrated idol of Lord Shiva here was installed by Sage Parashurama himself to purify the land and establish Vedic spiritual centers.
- Sangam Literature: The temple boasts a documented history that dates back more than a millennium. It is directly mentioned in ancient Sangam Literature as a prominent place of worship under the patronage of the early Chera Dynasty, which ruled from their capital at Mahodayapuram (modern-day Kodungallur).

Architecture

- Classic Kerala Style: The temple features traditional, minimalist indigenous Kerala temple architecture (Vastu Vidya).
- Sanctum Sanctorum (Sri Kovil): The main sanctum houses the primary deity facing the East to capture the rising sun's rays.
- Structures: It features a simple stone and wood layout, an outer boundary wall, and a dedicated Namaskara Mandapam (prayer hall) positioned directly in front of the main sanctum for offering prostrations.

Main Deity and Subdeities

- Main Presiding Deity: Lord Shiva in the Raviswara form, represented as a sacred Shiva Linga facing East.
- Subdeities (Upadevathas):
    - Lord Ganapathy (Ganesha), positioned usually in the southern part of the structure.
    - Sapthamathru Prathista (The Seven Divine Mother Goddesses).
    - Naga Devatas (Serpent Deities), revered near the sacred ancient tree.

Daily Rituals and Poojas (and Charges)

- Unlike highly commercialized or grand major temples, Raveeswarapuram functions largely as a serene, quiet heritage shrine.
- Daily Poojas: The temple traditionally conducts two principal poojas daily (the morning Usha Pooja and the evening Athazha Pooja).
- Charges: Because it is maintained primarily as an ancient meditative heritage site, standard simple offerings (Vazhipadu) like Archana, Vilakku (lighting lamps), and Neyyamruthu (ghee offerings) are available at nominal, modest rates ranging from ₹20 to ₹150. Note: Official computerized receipts for elaborate community feasts or heavy charges are not standard here; custom offerings are directly arranged via the resident priest.

Special Poojas and Their Charges

- Special offerings can be made during Mondays, Pradosham days, and Amavasya (New Moon days).
- Offerings such as Dhara (continuous pouring of holy water/milk over the deity) and Maha Mrityunjaya Archana for health and longevity can be arranged upon prior request to the Devaswom desk or head priest. Charges vary dynamically based on the cost of ritual ingredients (usually ranging between ₹250 to ₹1000).

Festivals Celebrated

- Maha Shivaratri: This is the most important annual religious festival celebrated at the temple with special midnight abhishekams, oil lamp illuminations, and night-long chanting of the Panchakshari Mantra.
- Lack of Grand Festivals: Historically, major communal pageantry or elephant processions are not a regular feature at Raveeswarapuram itself, as local historical pageantry is centered dynamically on the neighboring Kodungallur Bhagavathy temple.

Facilities Available for Devotees

- Basic Amenities: Clean drinking water and simple resting spaces around the outer courtyard (Pradakshina Vazhi) are available.
- Accommodation: The temple itself does not operate separate luxury lodges or guest rooms. However, because it is located centrally within the Kodungallur municipality, ample choices of budget lodges, Devaswom rest houses, and private hotels are located within a 1-kilometer radius.

Do's and Don'ts

- Dress Code: Traditional temple attire is strictly required to enter the inner courtyard. Men are expected to wear a Mundu (Dhoti) and remove their shirts. Women are required to wear traditional Indian attire like a Saree, Set-Mundu, or a modest Salwar Kameez.
- Photography: Taking photos or capturing videos inside the inner Nalambalam (sanctum boundary) is strictly prohibited.
- Footwear: Footwear must be removed at the designated spaces outside the outer temple gate.
- Sanctity: Maintain absolute silence inside the premises and avoid polluting the ancient temple pond.

Nearby Temples

Kodungallur is a historical hub of high spiritual density. You can easily pair your visit with:

1. Sree Kurumba Bhagavathy Temple: Located less than a kilometer away; one of the most powerful and historically famous Bhadrakali temples in India.
2. Thiruvanchikulam Mahadeva Temple: (Approx. 3-4 km away) Another ancient 108 Shiva Temple featuring incredibly rich mural paintings and historical ties to the Shaivite Nayanar saints.
3. Sringapuram Mahadeva Temple: (Approx. 1.3 km away) An ancient temple where Lord Shiva is depicted in a fierce, sorrowful state after the Daksha Yaga.
4. Kizhthali Siva Temple: Another nearby historic monument protected for its rich archaeological heritage.

Nearby Hotels (Within 1-2 km)

- Saffron Restaurant & Residency (Fine dining and rooms)
- Aswathy Hotel & Bar Residency
- Vedic Village Resorts (For premium backwater heritage stays close by)
- Numerous budget lodge properties are directly adjacent to the Kodungallur Private Bus Stand and municipal parking grounds.

Nearby Tourist Spots

- Muziris Lakeshore Park & Queen's Walkway: (Approx 1–1.5 km away) A scenic waterfront space ideal for an evening stroll along the historic backwaters.
- Cheraman Juma Masjid: (Approx. 2.5 km away) Renowned as the oldest mosque in the Indian subcontinent, built in 629 CE in traditional Kerala architectural style.
- Kottappuram Fort: (Approx. 4 km away) Built by the Portuguese in 1523, a fantastic spot for history buffs interested in the maritime history of the Muziris Heritage Project.
- Munakkal Beach: (Approx. 6.5 km away) A calm, scenic beach with a spacious walkway, pine tree forests, and views of the Azhikode river mouth merging into the Arabian Sea.

Any Other Info

Because of its calm environment and lower footfall compared to the heavily crowded Bhagavathy temple nearby, Raveeswarapuram is highly valued by pilgrims as a peaceful place for quiet contemplation and meditation. It is best to visit early in the morning (between 6:00 AM and 8:30 AM) to experience the traditional rituals in their most serene setting.

- By Road: Well-connected by buses from Thrissur (about 40 km), Kochi, and other major Kerala cities. Private taxis, autos, and cabs are easily available. It lies along NH 17.

Speciality of This Temple
- It is one of the 108 Shiva temples of Kerala believed to have been installed by Sage Parashurama (PRST68).
- The temple is relatively obscure despite its central location and ancient origins. It offers a peaceful, simple atmosphere ideal for quiet worship and meditation, with a temple pond and sacred Naga tree.
- The deity is in Raviswara form (a unique manifestation of Shiva associated with the Sun/Ravi).

History and Legends
- Mentioned in ancient Sangam Literature as one of the major temples under the Chera Dynasty.
- According to folklore, Sage Parashurama installed the idol.
- The temple was in ruins until recent renovations. It has historical significance from the Chera period but remains low-profile compared to grander nearby temples.

Architecture
- Traditional Kerala style architecture with a simple sanctum sanctorum (Sreekovil).
- Features a temple pond and a sacred Naga tree in the complex. The renovated structure is modest; some note that modern elements have slightly altered the traditional mystic feel.

Main Deity and Sub-Deities
- Main Deity: Lord Shiva as Raviswara (facing East).
- Sub-deities or associated elements: Limited information; the temple is primarily Shiva-focused with a pond containing an abandoned Shiva Linga.

Daily Rituals and Poojas and Their Charges
- Two poojas are performed daily.
- Typical Kerala temple timings (approximate, confirm on-site): Usually open in the morning (around 6 AM) and evening. Contact the temple for exact schedule.
- Specific charges for routine poojas are not widely listed online (as it is a smaller temple). Common offerings like archana, pushpanjali, or lighting lamps are available at nominal rates typical of Kerala temples.

Special Poojas and Their Charges
- No detailed public list of special poojas and charges found. Devotees can inquire on-site or via local contacts for personalized rituals (e.g., Mrityunjaya Homam or other Shiva-specific poojas common in Kerala temples).
- Maha Shivaratri sees special night-long observances.

Festivals Celebrated
- No major elaborate festivals or grand celebrations.
- Maha Shivaratri is observed, with devotees participating in night-long worship.

Facilities Available for Devotees
- Basic facilities as it is a smaller town temple. No large-scale accommodation (rest houses) mentioned specifically for this temple.
- Devotees usually rely on nearby options in Kodungallur town.

Do's and Don'ts
- Standard Hindu temple etiquette applies: Remove footwear, maintain silence and cleanliness, dress modestly, avoid non-vegetarian food/smoking/alcohol on premises.
- Respect the serene environment; photography may be restricted inside the sanctum.

Nearby Temples
- Kodungallur Sree Kurumba Bhagavathy Temple (just 500m away) — very famous.
- Thiruvanchikulam Mahadeva Temple (Uma Maheshwara form).
- Nediyathali Temple, Sringapuram Mahadeva Temple (other ancient Shiva temples in the area).

Nearby Hotels
- Several budget and mid-range hotels/restaurants in Kodungallur town (e.g., near the bus stand or Bhagavathy Temple). Options like Aswathy Hotel area are convenient. Check platforms like Booking.com or local inquiries for current stays.

Nearby Tourist Spots
- Kodungallur is historic: Ancient port town with connections to early Christianity, Judaism, and Islam in India.
- Nearby: Muziris Heritage sites, backwaters, beaches, and Thrissur attractions (e.g., Vadakkunnathan Temple).

Any Other Info
- The temple is simple and not heavily commercialized — ideal for those seeking authentic, quiet darshan rather than crowds.
- Contact: Search for "Raveeswarapuram Siva Temple Kodungallur" for latest phone numbers, as they may change.
- It is part of the Parashurama Kshetrams circuit in Thrissur district.

For the most accurate and up-to-date details (especially timings, pooja charges, and festivals), it is best to contact the temple directly or visit the Kerala Tourism/Devaswom Board resources, as smaller temples often have limited online presence.
